

IS YOUR PENSION AT RISK?

Bill C-27 is an attack on secure defined benefit pensions that could allow employers to break their pension promises to thousands of workers AND retirees across the country.

Justin Trudeau promised to protect retirement for all Canadians – and now he is threatening to go back on his word:

“We will provide Canadians with a more secure retirement”

- Liberal Platform 2015

Justin Trudeau promised to oppose moves to eliminate the secure pension benefits of retirees and current workers, declaring such moves “unacceptable” during the 2015 election campaign:

“Taking away benefits from seniors that had been earned and accrued over the years, retroactively, is unacceptable... and it’s wrong in principle.”

- Justin Trudeau pre-election interview, Fall 2015

On May 5 (12PM)

join us for a public demonstration at Prime Minister Justin Trudeau's Office at the Langevin Building to put a stop to this pension betrayal.

But now, the Trudeau government has adopted Stephen Harper's 2014 proposal to allow employers to eliminate retirement security and break their legal pension promises to workers and retirees in the federal jurisdiction.

If passed, Bill C-27 will jeopardize the "guaranteed" pensions that you bought and paid for during your career, and that you planned your retirement around. This is not the deal you signed on to.

Bill C-27 threatens the pensions of all Canadian workers and retirees. The Liberal government should be looking at ways to strengthen retirement security for Canadians – not undermine it. Because everyone deserves a secure retirement.

WHO WE ARE:

The Ottawa Committee for Pension Security came together to counter the assault of Bill C-27 on retirement security and the inadequacy and inequality of recent changes to the Canada Pension Plan (CPP). We support the expansion of pension coverage for all workers, ideally through the expansion of the CPP. We believe Bill C-27 will weaken the pension security of our retirement income system and is a historic betrayal of the pension promise many workers and retirees have already paid for.
